> LONDON IN THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY .-The extent and increase of London during the reign of Queen Elizabeth caused the greatest alarm to the government; yet in comparison with the present extent and progress of London, how idle at first glance seems the fear; still, when we consider the sanitary condition of London at that time and the imperfect state of the roads throughout England, we cannot wonder at the dread, particularly as plague and famine were frequent visitors to Queen Eliza-beth's London citizens. In 1579 the alarm respecting the increase of London was so years. In 1567 the number of strangers in London was: Scots, 40; French, 428; Spaniards and Portuguese, 45; Italians, 140; Dutch, 2,030; Burgundians, 44; Danes, 2; Liegois, 1; in all, 2,730. In 1579 the number was 8,190. This increase produced a remonstrance from the Lord Mayor and Aldermen against the proclamation forbidding any new building of a house or tenement within three miles are no longer a nation of thinkers; they are a crowd of idlers. To wander about gazing into the show-windows, and watch ing the throngs of promenaders, is the hight of the most apparent Athenian ambition. Athens is like Paris—gay, fickle, of gravity, born of the recollection of what French capital. Not the liquid Greek, but the nasal French is the polite language of the land of Homer and Plato, of artists and of poets innumerable. Parisian styles are the only fashion. Outdoor life in Athens is the rule of all classes of society. The climate is wonderfully delicious; the beau-tiful houses, the broad avenues, the gar-dens and the fountains, invite the whole population into the sunlight. The houses are uncomfortable, and one can easily realize that the "peripatetic" philosophers were not straining for effect in their walk and conversation. Modern Athens is a new city, but in some of its quarters relics of begone centuries are to be found on every hand. The middle and lower classes of people are not unlike those of 2,000 years ago in their habits, dress and appearance, and a stone, a block of marble, a broken column, with the Acropolis in the background, brings vividly to the mind of the visitor the Athens of Pericles and Demostration

[Special by Telegraph—Courtesy of the RECORD-UNION.] CHICAGO.

At the time of our LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR OPEN-ING last February, we spoke of our efforts to keep goods of this kind, equal in finish and design to the best home work, and at such reasonable prices as to successfully compete with it.

The arrival of another large invoice from the East reminds us to repeat what we then said, namely: That we are buying these goods from a manufacturer who has established a national reputation for turning out the finest work; due and fineness of finish.

We believe that with each of these points carried well nigh to perfection, and with our prices, such as we are able to make them from large buying and selling, that a large number of those who have hitherto had their UNDERWEAR made at home, will now find it to their interest to buy readymade. At least, our UNDERWEAR TRADE has increased as fast as people have found out the merits of our goods.

It is now believed that the French explorers, who have been missing at Cassair for a twelvemonth, were murdered by Indians, who are jealous of the presence of whites in their country. The Chilicats and Chilcoots have also crossed from the coast to Sylvester's trading-post and driven him away. This post was located at the junction of the Liard and Dease rivers, and the coast Indians claim that they only have a right to trade with the Sticks—the tribe who live there. Schooner Stranded—Accident.

San Francisco, June 8th.—Captain W. B.
Fenwick, of the British steamship Strathairly, was released from custody to-day on filing bonds in the sum of $5,000, with George Loring Cunningham, of the firm of Macondray & Co., and Julius Bosse, of the Golden Gate Market, as sureties. The Captain was arrested on a charge of bringing more than the legal allowance of passengers into port on his recent voyage from Hongkong. The time for the preliminary examination of the defendant before a United States Commissioner has not been fixed, because his attorney, Milton Andros, is absent from the city. It appears that the Strathairly was chartered at Hongkong to proceed to this port with a cargo of coolies, etc. Under the present circumstances it will be difficult for the vessel to comply with the terms of its charter satisfactorily to the charterers. It is stated that the charterers received $45 per head for the 1,056 Chinese recently landed in this city, making a total of $47,520 receipts from this source, aside from freight. The Government claims for infraction of the laws, if enforced, will materially lessen the profits of the voyage.

The Produce Exchange was called to order Wednesday morning for a discussion as to the proposed suspension of those members who had joined the Grain Exchange. Alfred Blow asked what had been done in the matter, and was informed by the President that legal advice had been taken by the Directors. Goat. Neuralgia. as a Dinner Pill. and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they st mulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every-day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent elergymen, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar-coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless. trian 5, Chinese 7, Dutch 1, English 73, French 16, German 32, Italian 2, Portuof Hakodate ken gives the number of native vessels wrecked during the period from July 1 to December 31, 1881, on the coast Success having attended the export of with a capital of $200,000 to continue the sugar-co

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting of burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen
will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkigh hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance.
There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of sominal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the
